Presidential Preferences In Several Different States.

NEW YORK SOLID FOR HILL.

Conventions Weld in a Number of Countles and Delegates Instructed to Cast Their Votes for the Senator-A Combination in the Northwest to Offset This and Give Cleveland a Hoom-Other Political Information.

ALBANY, Feb. 15.—The anti-Hill sentiment has developed in several of the counties, but not sufficiently to change the result or even make much trouble. In fact, Hill is an overwhelming favorite among the delegates chosen to represent the Democratic party in the state convention.

The counties carried for the senator Saturday were: Duchess (two districts), Orange, Schuyler, Tioga, Stenben. Seneca, Greene, Montgomery, Orleans, Cayugo (two districts), Jefferson (two districts) and Richmond. Saturday's results bring Hill's total number of pledged delegates up to 102. The number of delegates to be elected is 884.

In nearly all the conventions resolutions were adopted indersing the midwinter convention and landatory of Senator Hill. All of the delegates elected are favorable to his nomination for the presidency. Only six Cleveland delegates have been chosen.

CLEVELAND COMBINATION.

Five Northwestern States to Vote Solidly for the Ex-President.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—A combination is said to have been engineered during the past ten days to throw the votes of five northwestern states solicly to Cleveland at the Democratic convention. The states mentioned as being included in the combination are Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and the Dakotus.

They will, so the Democratic committees state, be unanimous for Cleveland from the start, with the exception of Icwa, which asks the privilege of casting a complimentary vote for Boies on the first ballot. It is agreed that all the states shall hold early conven-

The result shows an overwhelming majority for Cleveland. Out of 1,239 prominent Democrats interviewed Cleveland is the first choice of all but 800. Cleveland received 840 first choice votes. Hill is second with 270. Gorman gets 24, Gray 13 and the rest are scattered. The reports come from eighty-seven towns and eighty-three counties.

Joseph E. Brown, four times governor of Georgia and twice United States senator, and the strongest man politically in the state, has written a long letter to the Atlanta Constitution urging the Democrats of the country to nominate Senator Hill for the presidency at the Chicago convention.

New York Republicans.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The executive committee of the Republican state committee has decided to call a meeting of the state committee at noon Feb. 29 at the Fifth Avenue hotel, this city. It is nnderstood that the state convention to elect delegates to the Republican national convention will be held the fisst week in May.

AURORA BOREALIS. A Light in the Heavens of Most Brilliant

Hue.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15 .- A gorgeous illumination of the heavens was visible Saturday night at cities over a thousand miles apart. It was the most wonderful exhibition of the aurora borealis or northern light possibly ever seen from American soil. Dispatches from differ-ent places show that the phenomenon stretched over a great belt of territory, from lows to the Atlantic coast.

From east to west the northern sky here was illumined by an immense half here was illumined by an immense half circle flaming npward nearly to the zenith. At first almost blood-red, it dimmed at times to delicate pink, and would brighten suddenly. The circle was shot with rays of almost white lights, all pointed outward from the circle. It began at 6:10 p. m., and for an honr was a gorgeous light. At 7 o'clock it began disappearing. The weather had been very warm throughout the day, but after the aurora rapidly grew colder.

NATURAL GAS WAR.

Competing Companies Making It Pleasant for Consumers.

CELINA, O., Feb. 15.—The competition on natural gas consuming in this city has caused a large decrease in the price already. The eld company say they will not be outdone by the new company, and will reduce the price lower than it is now. They issued a schedule that all consumers would be given gas for a No. 4 mixer for fifty cents, which has been heretofore $1.88, and for a No. 5 mixer seventy-five cents per month, previous price $2.

The new company have secured up to the present time over 400 stoves from outside consumers, besides their stock-holders which will cover at least 600. The situation promises to be of great interest before the matter is fully settled. The new company is about completed, and will begin with the first of the menth to contract with consumers.

WHOLESALE POISONING.

Suspicion That a Rejected Lover and Ex-Convict Did the Deed.

CENTRALIA, Ills., Feb. 15 .- The family of James Morton, living ten miles east of this city, was poisoned Friday morning at breakfast. Dr. Green, of Salem, was called and remained with the family all day and night. Mr. Morton died Saturday merning at 1 o'clock and his danghter died in the afternoon. Dr. Green took breakfast there Saturday morning and was suddenly taken ill himself. A sister who had come i... to assist the afflicted family was also stricken shortly after eating.

It is feared that the doctor and two other members of the Morton family will die. Enspicion has fallen upon Foio Parkinson, a young man of the vicinity. He is charged with having placed poison in the family flour barrel for the purpose of killing the entire family, beca se one of the girls had refused to receive calls from him after he had served a term in the Chester penitentiary for theft.

REQUISITION REFUSED.

Governor Chase, of Indiana, Ignores Papers from Tennessee's Governor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15 .- Governor Chase has peremptorily refused to honer a requisition from the governor of.Tennessee for the arrest and return of Mrs. Mary Bolen, of this city, to that state for trial on a charge of breach of trust. Several years ago Murray & Rains, of this city, went to Tennessee to engage in the lumber business and Mrs. Bolen's husband was employed by the firm, but he has since died. The firm Variety of lills Are Liable to Come | p owed him at the time of his death $100. Just before Mrs. Bolon returned here one of the firm gave her some money to be conveyed to the other member and it is new charged that she retained $10 of the amount.

She contends that she was given but $90. but the firm charge that the amount was $100. In order to provent trouble she paid the amount in dispute, and since her return has taken measures to collect the sum due her husband. The firm has succeeded in indicting her for keeping the $10, and on this indictment the governor of Tennessee issued the requisition. Governor Chase regards the whole affair as a piece of spite work, and refused to henor the requisition.

DEATH SURROUNDED BY ART.

An Old Recluse Meets a Horrible Death In New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 .- Henry Ten Brocck Gamage, eighty-seven years old, a recluse, was found dead yesterday in his room in the building of the Univercity of New York, where he had lived forty-nine years, his only companions being a collection of paintings and other works of art. Death, apparently, was due to natural causes, but the body when found presented a herrible appearance. The old man probably sat along-side of a lighted oil stove just before death evertook him, for when found his face was resting against the stove, the flesh of which had been burned away to the bone.

Guinage was a class-mate of ex-Senator Evarts, but beyond this fact very little is known of the man. His barn-like apartment, which was illuminated only by a skylight, was filled from floor to ceiling with paintings and portraits, many of which are said to be rare gcms. Besides these, dust-covered statues, placques and medallions were scattered about the apartment. The only known friend to the old recluse is the Rev. Dr. H. G. In Kentucky and the other Southern States the care of tools and value of fertilizers are sadly neglected. Were the farmers to give the same attention to these things that they do to the Sub-Treasury, Free Silver and other political questions, they would soon be able to liquidate their indebtedness, and not have that woe-begone look which marks so many sgriculturists.

The farmer's life should be what the ludustrious, intelligent, reading farmers make it-the freest and happiest on earth; but the Industrial American is willing to guarantee that the farmer is in debt to his eyes who leaves his tools in the fields all winter, neglects to care for the crops he has raised, and allows all the fertilizers his place produces to go to waste; and for his condition he has none but himself to blame, and is not worthy of the sympathy of his fellowmen, or the attention of the law-makers upon whom this class is always calling for help by the passage of some unstable law, instead of helping himself by using those methods of frugality and economy in the care of the farm that enable men to succeed in other avocations.

England's Centenarian Admiral Dead in London.

SIR PRORO WILLIAM P. WALLIS.

An Eventful Career Lasting Over a Hundred Years Closed by Death-He Was the Father of the British Navy and Captured the United States Steamship Chesapeake Off Boston Harbor in 1813. Other Foreign Nows

London, Feb. 15.—Admiral Sir Provo William Parry Wallis, K. C. B., aged one hundred, the senior admiral of the British navy, is dead.

AIR PROVO WILLIAM PARRY WALLIS.

Sir Provo William Parry Wallis was popularly known as the "father of the British navy." His career has been an uncommonly brilliant one. He was a Canadian by birth, being born at Halifax in 1791. He began his naval experience in 1804, when he was appointed midshipman on the Cleopatra, and had his first taste of action six months later, when the Cleopatra succumbed to the superior power o' the French frigate Ville de Milan. The Cleopatra was rescued after hauling down the British flag, and the French frigate became the prize of the Leander, a fiftygun ship, without a shot being fired.

Wallis was made a lieutenant in 1808, when he was but seventeen years old, and took part in the capture of Gaudeloupe. Four years later he was appointed to the frigate Shannon, under Captain Broke. and was the only survivor of the great maval duel which took place off Boston harbor on the 1st of June, 1813, between that vessel and the American frigateChesapeake. This encounter was one of the most famous sea fights the world over witnessed. and though between single ships, ranks second only to Trafalgar in British naval Waills was second lieutenant on this occasion, and his captain, Broke, having been terribly wounded, and the first lieutenant killed, the command devolved ca him. The fight lasted about fifteen minutes, during which about one hundred men on both sides and all the principal officers were killed, including the galiant Captain Lawrence, of the Chesapeake. Lieutenant Waills, for his services in this fight, was mule a commander. The c' admiral always spoke of his American oponents with admiration, and attributed the victory of his side largely to luck.

In addition to being made a commander for his share in this battie, young Wallis received a letter of approbation from the admiralty and a sword from his captain. His promotion was very rapid afterward. In 1845 he was senior officer during the Syrian war; in 1851 be obtained full flag rank, and in 1857 he was appointed commander-in-chief on the southeast coast of America. his promotion to vice admiral followed in 1858, since which time he has not been to sea, but was placed upon the active list for life in recognition of his long and creditable service.

For some time past Sir Provo has been in feeble health, but his mind was vigorous and his memory clear. The one bundredth anniversary of his birth was ceiebrated with fitting honors at every British naval station.

A CRANK IN CHURCH.

Sensation Created in the Court Chapel in Berlin.

BERLIN, Feb. 15 .- A mild sensation was cansed in the Court chapel yesterday while the kaiser, Prince Henry, the Grand Duke of Baden, and other royal personages were present, by a man in the audience suddenly rising and crying out londly and solemnly to the preacher, Dr. Vieregge: "Your words are use-less; behold the milleninn is at hand." The disturber was about to continue his remarks, but before he could utter another word the vigilant attendants had seized him and hustled him from the room. Court Preacher Vieregge continued his sermon, and the congre-gation quietly regained their composure.

It inevitably happens, however, that any occurrence in which the emperor is even remotely concerned speedily be-comes the subject of most absurd gossips and exaggerations. Stories began to circulate throughout Potsdam and Berlin of sor ething extraordinary having happened during the service; the kaiser was said to have indulged in some eccentricity. Finally the tale was confidently passed from month to mouth that the emperor had shouted to the preacher to stop talking nonsense, and had snggested taking the pulpit himself for the purpose of expounding correctly some doctrine with whose treatment at the hands of the minister he had found fault. The crank after being removed fault. The crank after being removed was examined and found to be insane on the subject of religion. He proved to be the former pastor of a village near

Thousands of Auti-Luttery and Lotter; Men Arming Themselves, CHICAGO, Feb. 15 .- A special to The Herald from New Orleans says. There is to be a conference this week between committees from the lottory and anti-lottery wings of the Demo cratic party. The idea is to arrange a compromise agree on terms by which the great gambling enterprise may exist a year or so longer, withdraw the two Democratic tickets now in the field and name a new one, which both faction may support. It is not considered likely that the differences will be adjusted.

There is an intensity of feeling on this lottery question that can scarcely lx quieted by committee action. Neither side is willing to make any concessions. It is considered much more probable that the points involved will be debuted with the convincing argument of rifler and argued through smoke, than the they will be decided over a council table There is no room for compromise, the anti-lottery people believe, and they deciare that if the Louisiana lottery car not be killed by the law it must b downed in blood.

In the last three months thirty Dem ocratic clubs have been organized, one in each ward of the city. The member-ship of the individual clubs ranges from fifty to 350 men and aggregate enrollment is 5,000, possibly more. As the election for governor will take place in April the forming of these clubs attracted but little attention. As the clubs were formed and the membership grew there was a ringular commercial move ment. At no time, since Ben Butler as sumed municipal control, has therebeen such a steady demand for firearms as during the last few months. The prices of Winchesters advanced and shotguns became nearly as valuable a and scarcer than jewelry. Soon neither rifles nor fowling pieces were to be have and manufacturers had difficulty in fill ing orders.

Then it was learned that the new ward clubs were causing the napre cedented demand for weapons. Their meetings were secret, and were devoted to instructing the members in the manual of arms. The members of these clubs are associated for business. When it appears to them that the lottery has such a firm grip on the institutions of the state that the ordinary political and legislative methods can not loosen it: hoid, they will begin the transaction of the business for which they were or ganized. This will be tho taking con trol of the state government by force.

The anti-lottery faction is not alone in preparing for bloodshed. The friend of the vast gambling corporation with also have an army at its call, but these forces will not have the discipline nor the stamina which may be looked for among the antis. When the lottery men began to arrange for the purchase of arms they found that hardly a Win chester or revolver was to be had in town. Realizing that the antis had al ready made preparations for the expected conflict, they hastily subscribed considerable sum which was forwarded to a New England gun factory, and shortly afterward something like a ship load of rifles was stored in a warehous on the levee here.

There is an old statute which forbids the storing of arms in Louisiana, except such as are kept on sale in stores or be long to minitary organizations. The governor will presently confiscate these The warehoused guns, and in the event can armed conflict the bodies of the lo tery men will be perforated with bulle. which their own money paid for.

DOUBLE SUICIDE.

A Young Farmer and His Wife Cut Their Throats

GALLATIN, Tenn., Feb. 15 .- A sensational tragedy is reported from Portland, a small town in the northern portion of Summer county. Elvis Pardue. a well known young farmer of that neighborhood, and his wife were found at their home Saturday morning lying dead on the floor of the bed chamber with their throats cut from ear to ear. The deaths were both the results of deliberately planned suicides. Both bodies were lying on pillows on the floor, and near Mrs. Paidne was a bloody razor, with which the ghastly deed had been committed.

The fact that the razor lay nearest Mrs. Fardne has led to the conjecture Mrs. Fardne has led to the conjecture that she was the last to use the instrument of death. In fact, this theory is supported by a note found in the room written in Mrs. Pardue's hand an signed by her, in which it is stated that she and her husband had no friends, an as he had concluded to commit suiciding the would take her arm life rether the she would take her own life rather that live without him. The couple had been married only a year. They appeared the happily and no cause can be divinctor the melancholy that seems to have led them to co desperate a conclusion.

curniture Factory Burned.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Fire this morning partially consumed the five-story furniture factory of Charles' Lench, at 516-520 West street. It is supposed to have originated in a show room on the first floor and slowly burned its way to the second floor, where two large varnish tanks were reached by the flames, which furnished fuel-that soon caused the flames to envelope the building. Three alarms were sent in, and the firemen worked he roically for two hours
